

(a) What the model actually sees

Crossing pedestrians grouped by how much of the 16-frame window is spent already crossing.

(b) The static-geometry shortcut

How well the last observed box alone separates the classes, with no temporal information at all.

